A utility shirtdress gets the Celine treatment and suddenly it's the summer uniform we all want to invest in. Add logo leather accessories and now we are really standing to attention.

DRESS, £1,300; BELT, £495; BELT BAG, £1,650; SANDALS, £690, all Celine by Hedi Slimane. SOCKS, stylist's own. LARGE CASE, £1,595; SMALL CASE, £1,345, both Globe-Trotter

Exaggerated sleeves, wallpaper floral prints and flouncy hemlines bring a feminine accent to a bomber jacket. Welcome to Simone Rocha's masterclass in laid-back luxury.

JACKET, £1,595; DRESS, £1,200, both Simone Rocha

Introducing Agua by Agua Bendita (Agua AB if you're in the know), the sophisticated, environmentally conscious label from Colombia making pattern-phobes around the globe embrace print with gusto. Tuck its joyful lemon printed, wide-leg trousers into canvas boots for dusty walking days, then free the flare and add metallic heels for night. Smitten.

TOP, £415; TROUSERS, £810, both Agua by Agua Bendita at Kolbird. SOCKS, stylist's own. BOOTS, £95, Palladium. LUGGAGE, as before

Calling all campers: do not consider pitching your tent without Longchamp's floral tunic. Practical and pretty, it works as a minidress with sandals, a parka over a cashmere jumper and shorts, and a jacket over jeans and Wellingtons.

DRESS, £825, Longchamp

Who wouldn't want to waft around in Dior's divine diaphanous floral wrap dress with matching bra and shorts? This is how you make light of summer dressing.

DRESS, £1,100; BRALETTE, £780; SHORTS, £1,300, all Dior

You need to know about Naya Rea – the folky label taking the fashion world by storm. Indulge in its whimsical dresses, bountiful blouses and romantic floral prints and you'll have summer totally sorted.

COAT, £640; DRESS, £380, both Naya Rea.
SOCKS, stylist's own.
BOOTS, £75, Palladium

Palladium boots are back. The cult canvas lace-up boot of the 1990s is adding a cool, army energy to everything, including Australian label Alémais' must-have washed-out floral playsuit.

PLAYSUIT, £345, Alémais at Koibird. HAT, £23, Rains.
SOCKS, stylist's own.
BOOTS, £95, Palladium

Max Mara's billowy shirt and high-waist slinky maxi skirt are given raw energy reimagined in a grain-sack cotton drill. The juxtaposition of a sophisticated silhouette with a workwear fabric is pure magic.

SHIRT, £385; SKIRT, £685,
both MaxMara

Fashion's enduring love affair with floral maxi dresses continues on into 2023 and we couldn't be happier. This wardrobe icon will forever be in our luggage, whatever our destination.

TOP, £350; DRESS, £680,
both Emporio Armani

Joseph's slinky vest and shorts set is the epitome of safari chic when paired with chunky cashmere socks and stumpy desert boots. Add playful panache with an exuberant floral sunhat.

TANK, £195; SHORTS, £225, both Joseph. HAT, £190, Alémais at Koibird. SOCKS, stylist's own. BOOTS, £95, Palladium. CHAIR FABRIC, Avalon, £110 a m, House of Hackney

Nothing says carefree summer quite like the easy elegance of a printed co-ord, and Philosophy's raspberry Toile de Jouy cropped top and skirt is no exception. Play with the equilibrium and add a contrasting khaki cap and utility boots.

TOP, £445; SKIRT, £980, both Philosophy di Lorenzo Serafini. HAT; SOCKS, stylist's own. BOOTS, £75, Palladium
